Come early and explore the area around Sather Gate, the main entrance to the south side of the University of California Berkeley Campus. You enter from the intersection of Telegraph Avenue and Bancroft Way at Sproul Plaza. There are bathroom and restaurants nearby in the Student Union Building. This is a great place to paint with lots of images of historic buildings as well as natural landscapes. There are several parking garages nearby. We will meet at Student Center Café at Sproul Plaza (next to Sather Gate) at 2 pm for a group “show and tell” critique.
